

other party to the cause, or any party having an interest in the reference, may apply to the Court, as he shall be advised, for the purpose of expediting the prosecution thereof.

Upon the bringing in of every decree or order, the solicitor, bringing in the same, shall take out a warrant appointing a time, which is to be settled by the Master, for the purpose of taking into consideration the matter of the said decree or order, and shall serve the same upon the parties, or their solicitors, unless the Master shall dispense therewith; and upon the return of such warrant to consider, or upon the bringing in of the reference, when no such warrant shall have been issued, the Master shall proceed to regulate in all respects the manner of proceeding with such reference, and shall direct the time and manner in which such steps as may be required shall be taken by the respective parties, and shall further fix a time at which to proceed to the hearing and determining of such reference. And the Master, having determined the time and manner of proceeding with such reference, shall enter, in a book to be kept by him for that purpose, the name and title of the cause and the time fixed for proceeding in the matter.

Every reference appointed to be heard, as by Order LXXX provided, shall be called on and proceeded with at the day and time so fixed, unless the Master shall, in his discretion, think fit to postpone the same; and, in granting any application to postpone the hearing of any such reference, as aforesaid, the Master may make such order as to the costs consequent upon such postponement, and may impose such conditions upon the party applying for such postponement as he may think just. And, so soon as the Master shall have entered upon the hearing of any such reference, he shall proceed therewith to the conclusion, without interruption, where that is practicable; and, where any reference cannot be concluded on a single day, the Master shall proceed de die in diem without any fresh warrant, unless the Master shall be of opinion that an adjournment, other than de die in diem, would be proper and conducive to the ends of justice; and, when any such adjournment shall be ordered, the Master shall note in his book the time and reason thereof; and in no case shall any matter be discontinued or adjourned for the mere purpose of proceeding with any other matter, unless such course shall have become necessary.

So soon as the hearing of any matter pending before the Master shall have been completed, he shall so inform the
